Williams-Elrod

A marriage that came as a complete surprise to nearly all their friends and acquaintances took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Merritt Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when Presiding Elder P. F. Kilgo united in marriage Miss Maude Williams, of Easley route 2, and Mr. Luther Elrod of Olanda, formerly of Piedmont. Only a few friends witnessed the ceremony. The bride is a cousin of Mrs. Luther Cely of this city, and is a very charming young lady. The groom is one of the county's substantial citizens. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Elrod left for an extended trip to New York and other cities.—Greenville News.

M. W. Hester, Jr., Dead

Mike W. Hester, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Hester, of Pickens county, near Easley, died at his home Monday after a few days' illness at the age of 25 years. Mr. Hester graduated in the class of 1913 in the South Carolina Military academy at Charleston and stood high in his class.

He was of the highest type of young manhood. For the past year he was engaged as military instructor in Bingham Military institute at Mebane, N. C., and intended to engage in like profession during the coming year, but Providence willed it otherwise. His death has created a sad void in the family circle and the family has the sincere sympathy of a host of friends in their bereavement. Beside his parents he is survived by five brothers and three sisters. The funeral services and interment took place at Dacusville Tuesday.

Earle-Allgood

A beautiful home wedding took place last Thursday afternoon at the suburban home of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Earle when they gave their daughter, Miss Lucia, in marriage to Dr. Reese Alexander Allgood. The ceremony which united the lives of these two popular young people was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. L. E. Wiggins, and was witnessed only by the relatives and a few intimate friends. The wedding march to the strains of which the couple marched into the parlor where the ceremony took place was beautifully rendered by Miss Ruth Parsons. Delicious refreshments were served after the wedding. The happy couple waited long enough only to receive the congratulations of their friends and then with an old shoe trailing along behind the automobile which bore them they hastened to Easley, piloted thither by Mr. Hagood Bruce, there to set out upon their honeymoon journey. They intend to spend some time in Asheville, Waynesville and other mountain resorts before returning to Pickens for a short visit. Then after a short stay with relatives here they will go to Ridgeway where they will make their future home.

Both the young people are deservedly popular in Pickens where they have lived since their childhood and their many friends here wish for them great happiness and success in life. Dr. Allgood is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Allgood of this city. He took his course in medicine at the University of Maryland and is already a most successful physician. He has won for his bride one of Pickens' most beautiful and charming young women who will be greatly missed in the community where she is held in such high regard.

Announcements have been received in Pickens of the marriage of Bruce Boggs, which occurred in California last month. Bruce has many friends in Pickens, his old home, who join The Sentinel in wishing him and his bride a long, happy and useful life.

Money saved is money earned. If you need a pair of shoes now is the time to buy them and make fifty cents on the deal. The Piedmont Shoe Co. of Greenville is offering to readers of The Sentinel this week a $2.50 pair of shoes for $2. Those who take advantage of this offer will be making 20 per cent on their money, and whenever you can make 20 per cent on an investment you are doing good business.

Splendors of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Revealed by Its Present Progress.

SUPERB WORKS OF SCULPTURE AND ART IN COLOSSAL EXHIBIT PALACES FOR AMERICA'S PANAMA CANAL CELEBRATION.

GLINTS of gold from vast oriental domes, Venetian blue on minarets, prodigious works of sculpture and the arrival of notables from all parts of the globe give glimpses of the great Panama-Pacific International Exposition as it will appear when its gates swing open to the world on Feb. 20, 1915.

Not for many years will the world be enabled to enjoy so marvelous a collection of the works of contemporary sculptors. The World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago first proved that the greatest talent might be engaged to produce work of even temporary value. Since then more and more attention has been given at each succeeding exposition to sculpture as a form of decoration, and the great Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco promises to surpass even Chicago's exquisite display.

Every phase of the exposition is far advanced. Thirty-three of the world's nations will participate with government displays. Argentina leading with a government appropriation of $1,200,000 gold.

AIRSHIPS WILL RACE AROUND THE GLOBE FROM SAN FRANCISCO IN 1915.

AERONAUTS from all the civilized nations of the globe with every standard type of air craft driven by motors will participate in an aerial race around the world, which will be a feature of the sporting events to be held during the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco in 1915. The race will start from the grounds of the Exposition in May, 1915, and will end there. Three hundred thousand dollars has been hung up in prizes for this stupendous world grinding contest. A number of the world's greatest aviators have signified their intention of entering the races. The recent flight of Stoeffler, ending at Mulhausen, Germany, in which he covered 1,375 miles, convinces aviators that long flights are a matter of adequate supply stations. The above photograph shows the route around the world and the various supply stations.

Rambler Visits in Oconee

Mr. Editor:—Doubtless you remember the article in a recent issue of The Sentinel relative to the extraordinary good farming done by J. C. Duckworth and a 900-pound mule on 43 acres of Oconee county dirt, the details of which most of your readers, doubtless, remember.

Well, I was over there the 29th ult. And coming up the fine automobile highway from Westminster to Walhalla, in that good section near Conners church, I espied a neat cottage on a little knoll over to the right of the road, nestling amongst a few pretty little oaks and surrounded by crops that looked good, after seeing so much in other places that presented a desert-like appearance. As I looked about me I was impressed that I was viewing the place which Duckworth and his mule made famous; so driving over to the little home I was convinced of the correctness of my surmise. For I was greeted with a welcome that only a Pickensite knows how to give to a "stranger within her gates." And the evening being far spent, I yielded to the cordial invitation to stay over night, the earlier part of which, after the repast, were very pleasantly spent in social chat and listening to some fine music rendered by the two Misses Butler and Mr. Duckworth's little 15-year-old daughter, and I wish to say that the trio and their music was worth a trip many times longer than was made by your scribe to see and hear.

As to Mr. Duckworth's farming, it was as good as the best, oats being hauled in that will thresh 50 bushels per acre, cotton ready to square and corn over knee high that will make, with seasons, 60 to 75 bushels per acre, and other side crops all looking well, and this in the face of a drought that was making other sections look like a desert.

I want to say that every Pickens man seemed to be prospering on Oconee dirt, and amongst them and not to be overlooked is our good friend Mr. M. M. Murphy, who, in addition to being a good farmer, is developing into a real estate speculator, having sold only recently for $50 per acre that which had cost but $25 some two years past, and reinvested in what she considers better land near Richland at $35 per acre.

Viewing everything from all standpoints, I am satisfied that our sister county is proud of the citizenship she has induced Pickens to relinquish, and we of Pickens are proud that we have been able to contribute so much to the material uplift of our less favored sister.

Pleasant Grove News

We are still dry in this section.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Fortner, who has been very sick, is much improved at this writing.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rigdon, who has been ill, is much better at this writing.

Commissioner G. W. Bowen has worked out our roads for us, and for which, we thank him very much.

Mr. Bunk Hendricks was kicked by a mule at Pleasant Grove church on the fifth Sunday. One of the mule's hoofs struck Mr. Hendricks on the cheek and inflicted a severe wound. The wounded man was placed in Mr. Bower Freeman's automobile and carried to Dr. E. C. Stroud at Marietta. The doctor dressed the wound and stated that no bones were broken. We hope that Mr. Hendricks will be alright in a few days.

F. W. Howard and two daughters attended the union meeting at the Grove last Sunday.

Prof. Jerry Burns and several others from North Carolina attended the union meeting.

Mrs. Sarah Jane Henderson

This good woman, who was the wife of Mr. B. W. Henderson, of Brevard, N. C., closed her eyes, and with Christian fortitude and submission passed to her eternal home on the afternoon of May 30, 1914, at the home of her son, Mr. R. L. Henderson of this place. Together this pair had walked life's rugged pathway for more than a half century. They began the journey together when the bloom of youth was on their brows, and with mutual confidence and helpfulness faced the future, not knowing the parting of the ways. They shared each other's trials, and with perfect trust in God were enabled to overcome many sorrows and difficulties.

God blessed them with a happy home and spared them to see their children grown and settled in life. Eight children survive her: J. A. Henderson of Easley, S. C.; Mrs. H. Emma Aiken of Greenville, S. C.; W. P. Henderson of Asheville, N. C.; R. L. Henderson of Pickens; Mrs. Lou E. Muse of Easley, S. C., and F. Henderson and B. Whit Henderson of Brevard, N. C. One son, J. E. Henderson, preceded her to the grave, having died in January, 1891.

This mother was a model Christian. For more than fifty years she followed the Lord and was a consistent member of the Baptist church. She bore her trials and sufferings with Christian resignation, always trusting in the promises to the faithful, and when at last she reached the end she was ready and willing to go.

What a beautiful sight to see two like these for many long years working, and striving, and toiling, hand in hand, for the Pearl of Great Price! She is there now, and in a few short days he will join her. If she had lived till the 6th of August she would have been 78 years old and her husband is about eight years older.

This sentiment, no doubt, is the heart feeling of each of her children, and may it be true: "Precious Mother, thou hast left us; Thou hast crossed the swelling tide; Thou art singing with the angels Over on the other side. Farewell, Mother, till we meet thee In the land over the sea. Where with loved ones gone before us, We will meet and be with thee."

Her remains were laid to rest at Mt. Tabor church the day following her death. The aged husband and father and the children have the tender sympathy of a host of friends. FRIEND.

Card of Thanks

Mr. Editor: Please allow us space in your valuable paper for a few words to thank our neighbors and friends for their kindness and help to us in the death of our dear mother; to all that sent or brought the beautiful flowers; to the ladies who rendered such beautiful and sweet hymns at the funeral. They were very appropriate. Also to Drs. Cannon and Valley for their kindness and medical skill during her sickness and death. May the Lord bless and save every one is our prayer. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Henderson.

Card of Thanks

Mr. Editor: Wedeside though the columns of The Sentinel to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness and assistance during the sickness and death of our darling little Josie. Also to Drs. Valley and Robinson for their efforts in her behalf. May God bless each one of them is our earnest prayer. Nelson Chastain and Wife.

ARE NO STRINGS TO HUERTA'S PROMISE

HIS DELEGATES EXPLAIN THAT HIS WILLINGNESS TO RETIRE IS GENUINE.

DEMANDS POLITICAL PEACE

If Agreement Can Secure That, He says He Will Be Satisfied by Other Method.

Niagara Falls.—No conditions are attached to Gen. Huerta's promise to resign the Mexican presidency as soon as his country is "politically pacified." His delegates to the mediation conference took occasion to say publicly that he does not intend to hide behind technicalities.

The Mexican delegation had concluded, that its recent statement, setting forth the attitude of Gen. Huerta towards demands for his retirement was misinterpreted in some quarters. It had been said that under the language of his pledge to retire when the country was politically pacified, Gen. Huerta might insist on holding office until all guerrilla bands were dispersed. On that account another statement was issued by the Huerta delegation. It reads:

"Mr. Rabaza, of the Mexican delegation has been asked what is the interpretation given by the Mexican delegates to the word 'politically pacified' in the statement declaring that Gen. Huerta is prepared to withdraw provided that at the time of his withdrawal Mexico shall be politically pacified; and he thinks that an agreement between the two contending parties would not be considered as fulfilling Gen. Huerta's condition. 'To the above question Mr. Rabaza answers that the expression used by the delegation does not mean that Gen. Huerta demands the material pacification of the country nor the dispersal of the last of the groups of bandits which overrun many parts of it, making the revolution a pretext for their lawlessness; but that peace shall be assured by political means which will guarantee for the nation that maintenance of law and order which is indispensable to the exercise of constitutional functions. The object in view is peace. The condition is that that object shall have been achieved. 'If an agreement insures that end the condition as is well fulfilled by it as by any other means.' The American delegates met with the mediators, but consideration was given only to questions that arose before the matter of the important issue.

TAMPIO UNDER BLOCKADE

Causes New Crisis.—Officials Wait For Development.

Washington.—A new crisis in the Mexican situation developed when two Mexican Federal gunboats, closely trailed by two American warcraft, the cruiser Tacoma and gunboat Haerlem, steamed from Puerto Mexico for Tampico, to enforce a blockade of that port decreed by Gen. Huerta. No specific orders have been given, the American commanders merely having instructions to keep the Mexican boats under surveillance, but it is known that Rear Admiral Badger has been advised that the United States regards Tampico as an open port and desires that there be no interference with commerce there.

Notice of Gen. Huerta's decree was given formally to Secretary Bryan earlier in the night by Senator Riano, the Spanish ambassador, who represents the Huerta government here. This was followed by a conference of administration officials, but nothing was known of the result.

Huerta later decided to abandon his blockade of Tampico and another crisis was thus avoided.

Would Buy Warcraft

..Douglas, Ariz.—Constitutionalist Agent Lelivier, telegraphed to Gen. Obregon a proposal that the constitutionalists attempt to purchase the American battleships Idaho and Mississippi, which are for sale. Lelivier said he felt sure he could raise sufficient money in Sonora and Sinaloa to buy one of the ships.

Storested Still Held

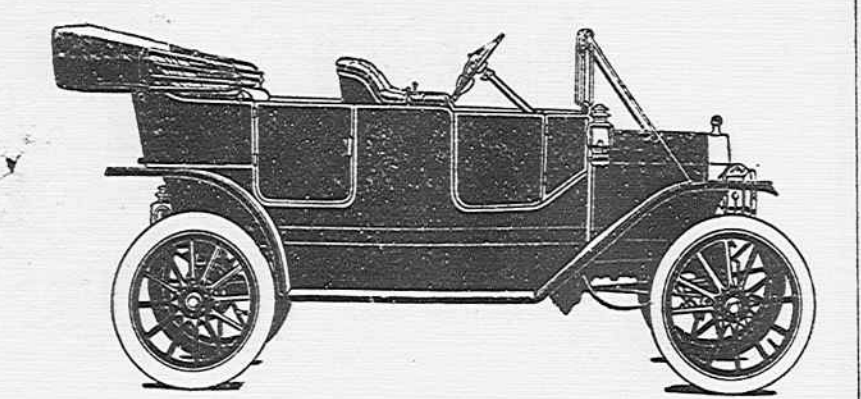

Montevideo.—The Norwegian collier Storested which rammed and sank the liner Empress of Ireland in the St. Lawrence still pushes her battered nose up against the dock in Montreal, an impatient prisoner of the admiralty court of Canada. A bellif is in possession and Capt. Anderson must wait till the court accepts a bond for more than $200,000 and releases her. The coroner's jury at Rimouski adjourned for an indefinite period pending the investigation of the Empress disaster by Lord Mersey.

Decides Against Frank

Atlanta, Ga.—Judge Ben Hill of the Fulton county superior court sustained the state's demurrer to the motion to set aside the verdict by which Leo M. Frank was pronounced guilty of the murder of Mary Phagan, a factory girl. The motion was based on the claim that Frank's constitutional rights were violated when the verdict was returned during the condemned man's absence from court. In sustaining the demurrer, Judge Hill refused to hear the motion on its merits, holding instead that it was filed too late.

Value of a Technical College Education.

A young man can make no better investment than in a technical education. Viewed merely as a matter of business, even if he has to borrow the money at interest, he will find that his increased earning capacity will perhaps even the first year after graduation be sufficient to repay the loan. It is a poor business policy to wait to earn the money necessary to pay for an education with an earning capacity only one-half or one-third that of an educated man. Every year of untrained, uneducated labor represents a direct financial loss. Every boy of ability and ambition whose parents are unable to pay for his education, should get some friend to endorse his note at the bank and begin preparation that will make for greater earning capacity and a fuller life. There is no time to lose. The time is looking for 1,000 horsepower men and is willing to pay for them. Already there is a surplus of the one-horse variety. A college education is no longer a luxury of the rich, but more a necessity of the poor whose parents can give him little or nothing to start on. In earning capacity, a college education represents at the outset a capital of from $15,000 to $30,000, depending upon the energy, character and personality of the possessor, and the capital increases with every year of its efficient use.

A college diploma has come to be regarded by the business world not so much as an evidence of knowledge as evidence that the graduate possesses and is trained in those qualities of ability, industry, ambition and character that are likely to make for success. There never was a time in the history of the world when expert knowledge was so much in demand, so indispensable to individual success, and so highly compensated
